Lexington, KY --- Not to be outdone by their female counterparts, Crazy Wow and Muscle Diamond deserve their share of accolades for capturing their respective divisions of the Bluegrass Stake for 3-year-old male trotters on Saturday (Oct. 3) at The Red Mile.

Crazy Wow was a 1:55.4 winner with Tim Tetrick up.

Crazy Wow took center stage first when he went to the gate as the public's second choice at even money. The son of Crazed and No Pan No Gain, who is owned by Our Horse Cents Stables, JT45, J&T Silva Stables and Deo Valente Farms, had the services of Tim Tetrick for his mile. The duo left from post four in the sixth race of night and broke on top while the 4-5 favorite The Bank was caught three wide on the first turn.

The Bank swiftly assumed control after a first quarter-mile in :28.2 while Tetrick bided his time with the Ron Burke trainee in the pocket spot. The top two remained in the same positions around the red clay oval through splits of :57.3 and 1:27.

As the field traveled into the last turn, however, Tetrick made his move. Crazy Wow popped out of the pocket, slingshot to the lead and never gave a backwards glance to his competition. He hit the wire in 1:55.4, 3-1/4 lengths ahead of The Bank and never looked like he even broke a serious sweat. Crescent Fashion was in third. Crazy Wow paid $4.00 for the victory.

"He is just a really good horse all the way around," trainer Ron Burke said. "When we first got him I was a little concerned about how he was mentally, but as he has raced on he has really grown into himself in that way. I think in the (Kentucky) Futurity (that he will be supplemented into) and the Breeders Crown he will show that he is right up there with some of the best horses out there. I'm looking forward to see how his season turns out."

With his most recent triumph, Crazy Wow has now amassed $977,415 in his career and has a record of 25-12-5-1 from his performances in two seasons.
